

Parenting for Peace
presents

Books as Bridges

Children's Literature and Anti-Racism Education

October 18, 2011

7:00 pm

Mackworth Island

Please join us for a presentation and discussion with Anne Sibley O'Brien, author-illustrator and anti-racist educator, and Krista Aronson, psychology professor and director of the Story Book Project. Free and open to the public.

Seats are limited and pre-registration is encouraged.
Come early to browse our book sale!

Workshop for Educators Mirrors & Lenses: Racial Identity Formation in the Classroom

3:30 pm, October 18, 2011
Friends School of Portland

Join Anne Sibley O'Brien in a discussion of racial identity formation, unconscious bias, and contemporary realities of racism. Learn a new set of tools for facilitating critical conversations with students.

Registration and fee required.

To register online:

<http://booksasbridges.eventbrite.com/>

For more information:

www.friendsschoolofportland.org

207-781-6321 • information@friendsschoolofportland.org

1 Mackworth Island • Falmouth, Maine • 04105

